CHANNELL TAKEOVER ALLEGATION

It is the belief of [REDACTED] that CARL "SPITZ" CHANNELL attempted to take over the ASE with the assistance [REDACTED] for the purpose of establishing a conservative fund raising organization.

b6
b7C

Individuals within the news media community have [REDACTED] CHANNELL took over 9 non-profit organizations for the purpose of converting them into conservative fund raising vehicles. These organizations include the American Conservative Trust, The National Endowment for the Preservation of Liberty and Western Goals. The news media contacts further stated that each of the organizations taken over by CHANNELL had homosexuals within their ranks. Furthermore, all of the organizations were in financial trouble at the time CHANNELL took them over.

b7C

[REDACTED] several individuals that he is [REDACTED] CHANNELL and referred to CHANNELL several times as his [REDACTED]

b6
b7C

During April, 1986, [REDACTED] the United States Government was involved in shipping Arms to the Middle East in the area of Iran. He also advised [REDACTED] United States Government officials were involved in private funding raising efforts to support the Nicaraguan Counter-Revolutionaries (contras enclosed). He also advised [REDACTED] that private donations to the contras were being diverted. [REDACTED] had received this information from several sources within the news media community.

b7C

[REDACTED] believes that the information he provided to [REDACTED] would have been damaging to CHANNELL's fund raising efforts. For this reason, [REDACTED] CHANNELL instructed [REDACTED] ASE.

b6
b7C

CHANNELL FUND RAISING FOR SENATOR GRASSLEY

[REDACTED] also advised him that profits from the United States sales of Arms to Iran were furnished to CARL CHANNELL and that CHANNELL contributed a portion of these funds to conservation candidates seeking national office. [REDACTED] CHANNELL possibly provided a portion of this profit money to Senator GRASSLEY's 1986 Election Campaign. [REDACTED] noted that during May, 1986, Senator GRASSLEY voted in favor of a Senate Bill which authorized financial support to contras.

[REDACTED] CHANNELL performed fund raising activities for Senator GRASSLEY's 1986 campaign and that he (CHANNELL) directed that the contributions be made through [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] this opinion on several factors. According to [REDACTED] observations, [REDACTED] raise funds for a major campaign and would have to rely on his close associate, CARL CHANNELL, for that purpose. Several contributors to Senator GRASSLEY's campaign were located out of the state of Iowa. CHANNELL organized a fund raising breakfast for Senator GRASSLEY's campaign during December, 1985. CHANNELL and each of the following listed associates of CHANNELL contributed $1,000 to Senator GRASSLEY's campaign relative to this fund raising breakfast:

CHANNELL and the other 7 contributors are included on a two page list of individuals who contributed money to Senator GRASSLEY's campaign on or about December 24, 1985. [REDACTED] obtained the names and addresses of these individuals from FEDERAL ELECTION COMMISSION records. [REDACTED] provided this two page list to the interviewing agent.

[REDACTED] INCIDENT

b6
b7C

[REDACTED] Lieutenant Colonel OLIVER NORTH and CARL CHANNELL caused an incident which was designed to discredit [REDACTED] efforts to investigate United States Government involvement in supporting the Contras. [REDACTED] was involved in developing a cannon to be sold to the United States Government and was transporting a prototype of the weapon when this incident occurred. While parked at a gas station in Northern Virginia, the cannon discharged, causing damage to personal property and injury to nearby people. After the incident occurred, [REDACTED] that he did not load the cannon and did not understand how it could have discharged. Also, there was no evidence of a projectile being fired from the cannon. [REDACTED] has been a close associate of [REDACTED] for several years and [REDACTED] believes that NORTH and CHANNELL caused the incident in the hope that [REDACTED] plight would also embarrass [REDACTED]

STATEMENTS TO [REDACTED]

b6

Also, CHANNELL and [redacted] were unable to agree on [redacted] fee, therefore, [redacted] declined the offer of employment.

During December, 1985, LANE attended a fund raising breakfast for U.S. Senator CHARLES GRASSLEY'S 1986 Re-election Campaign. CHANNELL invited LANE and his wife to the breakfast, however, he advised LANE that he and his wife would have to contribute $1,000.00 each to Senator GRASSLEY'S campaign. LANE told CHANNELL that he was financially unable to contribute such an amount and CHANNELL responded that he would reimburse LANE and his wife for the contributions. CHANNELL made no statement that the LANE'S contributions were part of a plan to disguise or conceal the true contributor to Senator GRASSLEY'S campaign. At the time, LANE did not think the circumstances surrounding the contributions constituted a violation of any criminal law. He did consider the circumstances to be usual.

There were six persons present at the GRASSLEY fund raising breakfast. Present were: Senator GRASSLEY, LANE, THOMAS SYNHORST, CARL CHANNELL, DANIEL CONRAD, and RICHARD MILLER. MILLER and CONRAD were associates of CHANNELL. FRANCES GOMEZ and F. CLIFTON SMITH were associates of CHANNELL, however, they were not present at the breakfast. LANE did not assist in organizing the breakfast and he therefore does not know the identities of contributors to Senator GRASSLEY'S campaign.

During December, 1985, LANE attended a fundraising breakfast for U.S. Senator CHARLES GRASSLEY's 1986 re-election campaign. LANE contributed $1,000 to the campaign and his wife, who did not attend the breakfast, also contributed $1,000. Both he and his wife wrote contribution checks drawn on their personal account at FIRST VIRGINIA BANK, Falls Church, Virginia. CHANNELL paid the LANES $2,000 for making the contributions. CHANNELL termed this payment to the LANES as a "business expense reimbursement". The $2,000 reimbursement was included in a check which paid LANE for his consultation services.

ELECTION LAW

MATTER; OO: WMFO

You were previously informed of the investigation being conducted by WMFO into possible election law violations involving Carl "Spitz" Channell, who apparently sponsored a breakfast fund raiser on behalf of Senator Charles Grassley in 1985. Allegations had been received to indicate that Channell may have subsequently reimbursed contributors at the breakfast for an amount equal to their contributions. In addition, there were allegations that contributors had worked for Channell as paid consultants during the same period.

Channell was also involved in the "Front Door" investigation being conducted by Independent Counsel (IC) Lawrence E. Walsh and ultimately pleaded guilty to conspiring to defraud the Government. In that case, Channell admitted that he had solicited money for military aid to the Contras, while claiming that it was a tax-exempt organization. In addition, Channell

Following the completed investigation by WMFO, the Public Integrity Section (PIS) of the Department of Justice advised on 10/31/88 that it declined to prosecute Channell for violation of the Federal election laws. Chief, PIS, advised that he was declining prosecution because
